

SPORTS NEWS YACHTS ARE MEASURED FOR THE BIG CUP RACE

Enormous Crowd in Erie Basin Watches the Application of the Tape Which May Mean Victory, in Opinion of Many, for Sloop Gaining Advantage in Time Allowance.

The final official action preceding the actual start of the yacht race was taken this afternoon before an immense crowd in Erie Basin, when both yachts were measured by C. D. Mower, the veteran official measurer of the New York Yacht Club. Never before in the history of the international contests for the cup has there been so much interest manifested in the measurements, and probably never before has so much hung upon the story told by the tape, for so evenly are the yachts balanced, in the opinion of experts, that the time allowance may be the factor in deciding the contest.

The little cross-town trolley line leading to the gates of the John N. Robinson Company's yard in Erie Basin broke records in carrying passengers. Entrance was free to all who applied and cameras were not barred. For hours before the measurements the yachts were in dry-dock and every line of their graceful bodies was exposed to the view of the enthusiasts.

Both boats were grained to the pink of perfection, their underbodies gleamed like mirrors and the paint on their hulls was spotless. No dining-room table was over cleaner than their decks. Owners and crews alike were keyed up to the height of nervous tension, and it was when everybody was nearly into the spirit of the occasion something happened that was hailed with delight by the superstitious.

FRANK YOAKUM WINS BRIGHTON

Beats Good Field of Trotters for the $10,000 Stake at the Beach with the Favorite Back in the Ruok.

(Special to The Evening World.)
BRIGHTON BEACH RACE TRACK, N. Y., Aug. 18.—There was no Lou Dillon advertised to break world's records today. Accordingly there was no crowd at this the second day's meeting of the Grand Circuit. The regulars constituted the majority of the "live ones" with bank odds as one "hookie" put it, and there was much doing in the betting ring. Auction pools on the various heats sold like tickets to a championship prize fight. The bookmakers took in what was left.

A race for a $10,000 prize is a pretty big thing in the running-horse world. There was a stake of just such value on today's card. It was known as the Brighton. In it were the stars of the 210 class pacers. In comparison to the trotting-horse men they were as rich as the world. Auction pools on the various heats sold like tickets to a championship prize fight. The bookmakers took in what was left.

Eleven in the First.
The day's sport began with the first heat of the race for 215 class trotters. Eleven good ones were entered and all took the word "go." Then followed the first heat in the rich Brighton Stakes. Two other races made up the card—one for 224 class trotters and the other for 224 class pacers. The "green" pacers, three-year-olds. The purse of $10,000 was known as the Kentucky stock farm prize.

The bettors could see nothing but Masetto in the first heat of the 215 trot. He opened at 2 to 1 and at post time the best to be had was 7 to 10. Midnight was second choice in the betting and Admiral Dewey and T. E. Quistor shared in the third call.

Talent Starts Right.
The talent was right. After a pretty race to the stretch turn between Masetto, Midnight and The Quistor, the drive for home against the wind began. Masetto pulled away and won by two lengths. A blanket award was given to the heat for 215 class pacers. The purse of $10,000 was known as the Kentucky stock farm prize.

DID HE SWIM OR DID HE DODGE?

NIAGARA FALLS, Aug. 18.—It is said that Jack Glenister made the trip through the Whirlpool Rapids today, but there is much about the story that associates the feat with Steve Brodie's jump. Glenister has gone to Buffalo. His friends claim they passed the night in a fisherman's hut in the gorge, and saw him swim across the rapids. He was rescued by a boatman. The feat has been the subject of much discussion. Glenister has gone to Buffalo. His friends claim they passed the night in a fisherman's hut in the gorge, and saw him swim across the rapids. He was rescued by a boatman. The feat has been the subject of much discussion.

He claims to have passed through the rapids and after entering the Whirlpool to have been shot out of it and carried down as far as the Devil's Hole, where he was rescued.

Dr. Drummond says Glenister's sixth rib is broken, the seventh injured and his left arm contused at the elbow. The feat has not the glory of the deeds of Mrs. Taylor or Graham and Perry, who practiced no concealment.

CARDINALS LEAD THE DODGERS

Patsy Donovan's Team, Minus Leader, Who Is Sick, Goes Up Against the Brooklyn Again and Start Off in Front.

(Special to The Evening World.)
WASHINGTON PARK, BROOKLYN, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Patsy Donovan and his troupe of unfortunate ball tossers and batters came to these grounds again this afternoon, where they tackled Ned Hanlon's Trolley Dodgers in the final game of the year in this borough.

Hanlon, as usual, was on hand early at the grounds and was just as happy as if his team was holding down first place in the race instead of a position in the second division. His happiness was the result of the great article of ball which the team has been putting up recently. Lacy, having won five games in succession.

Hanlon selected Oscar Jones to unload his collection of heaters at the Cardinals. As Jones is pitching in splendid form at present the chances of the Trolley Dodgers carrying off the game looked very bright indeed.

Patsy Donovan was unable to play in today's game, being taken suddenly sick before his men took the field for their preliminary practice. Rhoades took his place in right garden. Rhoades coached his men from the bench and made them ginger up in their practice. Brown and Jones, two of the young star artists, was called on to do the twirling for the Cardinals.

First Inning.
Farrell singled along the third base line and went to second on Rhoades's sacrifice, which Jones and Doyle too care of. Smoot got in a safe hit to the infield. Farrell going. Rhoades, Doyle, heavy laced out a high fly to left. Farrell scoring and not reaching second. Smoot tried to steal third, but was easily caught on Barry's throw to Strang. One run.

Strang laced the ball to left for a tag. Sheekard raised a high fly to short right center, which Smoot caught in Rhoades' next drive to center was good for a base, promoting Strang to second. Strang was nailed stealing to right, scoring Brain. Ryan flied out to Doyle, ending second. Doyle walked, but was forced at second on Dahlen's grounder to Farrell. No runs.

Second Inning.
Burke hit safely to short center. Brain's grounder to Jordan forced Burke at second, but Jordan's wild throw to Doyle forced Doyle. Doyle, Burke got to second. A wild pitch promoted Brain to third. Hackett doubled to right, scoring Brain. Ryan flied out to Doyle, ending second. Doyle walked, but was forced at second on Dahlen's grounder to Farrell. No runs.

Third Inning.
Farrell singled a bouncer to Jordan and died at first. Rhoades's scorching sacrifice hit Doyle, who was forced by Dahlen and went to first ahead of the batter. Smoot's drive to center netted him two bases. Dahlen's sacrifice hit Doyle, ending second. Doyle walked, but was forced at second on Dahlen's grounder to Farrell. No runs.

Fourth Inning.
Burke singled in short center but was petted at second on Brain's bouncer to Dahlen the latter tossing the ball to Jordan. Hackett sent up a high fly which Dahlen caught. Jordan and Doyle disposed of Ryan. No runs.

Fifth Inning.
Lacy was thrown out at first by Brain. McCreey was the second victim on his grounder, which Burke got to Hackett in time for an out, forcing Lacy to three so Burke flied out to center, scoring Smoot and Dunleavy. Brain struck out. Three runs.

Sixth Inning.
Brown bunted safely and advanced a baz on Farrell's sacrifice to Jones. Jones retired at first on his grounder, which was taken care of by Farrell and Hackett. No runs.

Seventh Inning.
Burke singled in short center but was petted at second on Brain's bouncer to Dahlen the latter tossing the ball to Jordan. Hackett sent up a high fly which Dahlen caught. Jordan and Doyle disposed of Ryan. No runs.

Eighth Inning.
